Dr. John P. Salerno Joins Editorial Board of Prestigious International Medical Journal

Dr. Salerno accepts invitation from the President of The International Society of Integrative Medicine to serve on the editorial board of Personalized Medicine Universe

New York, New York - (November 1, 2011) Dr. John P. Salerno, founder of The Salerno Center for Complementary Medicine in New York City and author of The Silver Cloud Diet, has accepted the position of editorial board member for Personalized Medicine Universe, official journal of The International Society of Integrative Medicine.

Personalized Medicine Universe aims to publish the highest quality papers seeking to establish the field of personalized medicine in clinical applications and translational research and to develop it further. The Editorial Board for Personalized Medicine Universe assumes the important role of screening submissions and seeking peer-reviewers that have specialized knowledge and a reliable viewpoint. Board members also have the final say in the decision to publish.

Dr. Salerno was asked to serve as a board member by the President of The International Society of Integrative Medicine, and owner of the prestigious Kudan Clinic in Japan, Dr. Hiroyuki Abe.

In 2003, Dr. Salerno worked with Dr. Abe to co-found the Kudan Clinic in Tokyo, Japan. Dr. Salerno has also personally formulated an entire line of all-natural nutritional supplements for Dr. Abe, named the Salerno Abe Factors.
